

Upper Key Stage 2 Home School Book

In this section of the Home School Book children can record the titles they are reading and how many pages and/or minutes a day they have read for each day of the week. The teacher can then award house points as appropriate. This encourages reading stamina and is a great record of the variety of genres the children enjoy.

This side of the Home School Book has sections for children to record any home learning tasks given and spellings to be practised. There is also space for the class teacher and the parent to communicate.
